

Noridian Administrative Services

Audit Services

Audit Staff

As part of its government contracts, Noridian Administrative Services performs audits on health care providers in the NAS service area. The auditing staff performs financial analysis and field audits to ensure proper reimbursement to health care providers working within the Medicare and Medicaid programs. Each auditor is required to possess a minimum of a bachelor's degree in a business-related field, preferably accounting. Noridian auditors have up to 30 years of audit experience.

With an auditing staff of 100+, Noridian performs hundreds of on-site audits and in-house reviews each year, as well as analysis of cost reports. NAS Audit Teams usually perform on-site audits, although some of those audits may be done by individual auditors.

Reviews are done by individual auditors at NAS offices, with additional auditing support available at each office site.
